23,901 Citizen Soldiers Train at Camps in U. S.

With 35 citizens' military training nps throughout the Nation already in full operation and sixteen camps yet to open, the War Department was adwer, breezes became more refreshing, and a nine-degree drop to 75 degrees had been registered by 10 o'clock last night. This respite is expected to be but temporary, according to the Weather Bureau, and as today progresses the mercury is again expected to rapidly rise, as no real break in the heat wave is yet in sight.

Cool air from the North or Northwest, of which there is no indication, is needed to effectually break the heat wave, and the temporary relief of last night was afforded only by the overcast skies and rain.

Dr. C. L. Mitchell, forecaster of the Dnited States Weather Bureau, yesterday that 23,901 students are enrolled in the camps now open.

The War Department received a total of 55,826 applications for entrance to the camps and 36,297 students were accepted. The sixteen camps yet to open will quarter 12,396 students. The training period in all camps is 30 days. The largest enrollment reported is that of Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, where 1,559 young men are becoming accustomed to the "Army life." Camp Knox, Ky., ranks second, with an of the near-by camps are: Fort Wash-Indiana, water that is enveloping a large portion of the country to the Gulf of Mexico.

London, July 10 (A.P.)—London's police are upheld, with certain reservations, in the majority report of the commission appointed to investigate the widely discussed Savidge case, it is stated on reliable authority. Majority and minority reports were forwarded to the House of Commons today, but it is unlikely that they will be made public in detail before Saturday.

The minority report, it is said, holds that the police are not subject to censure for anything said or done in the interrogation of Misss Irene Savidge, pretty 22-year-old London girl, whose arrest in Hyde Park on a charge of improper conduct with Sir Leo Money started the investigation. But the report will suggest certain modifications in police procedure where statements are required from witnesses whose personal characters might be involved in the inquiries made. The report is signed by Sir Eiden Bankes, chairman of the commission, and J. J. Withers, a member of parliament from Cambridge University.

MAYOR WALKER WARNS MOVIE MEN OF MIXING IN POLITICS

Picture Men "Amused."

Culver City, Calif., July 11 (A.P.).—
Mayor "Jimmle" Walker's information that the motion picture industry had been delivered into the camp of one of the major political parties, which he conveyed in an address to film press agents last night, brought the comment from Louis B. Mayer, film executive today, that most picture-wise people probably would be amused.

Incidentally Mayer, who was a delegate to the Republican national convention, declared that he and his fellow film producer, Joseph M. Schenck, prominent California Republican, were "for Hoover, California and our personal friends." Mayer is vice president in charge of production of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios here, while Schenck is president of United Artists Studios in Hollywood.

"The printed report to the effect that Joseph M. Schenck and I are attempting to deliver the motion picture industry to the Republican party," said Mayer in a formal statement, "must appear extremely amusing to any one who knows the picture business."

Burbank, Calif., Jui? 10 (A.P.).—
Mayor Jimmie Walker, of New York, laughed and lunched with First National Studio officials today, but said

Serious-faced film folks waited in industry had been dabbling in partisan politics.

On the contrary, Mayor Jimmie devoted most of his speech to a discussion of the merits, if any, of unpunctuality. The mayor surveyed a contract tendered him by Ned Marin, producer, which provided an initial salary of $10,000 per week to be increased $5,000 weekly until he was "unconscious" and turned it down, he said, because of a clause demanding that he be "prompt and runctual."

"There is not enough money in California to keep a New York mayor on time," he said. Further, he was convinced the contract was "all hooey."

So far as punctuality is concerned, Mayor Jimmie cited the vital statistics of New York State to prove that he was "late fir coming into the world." He could give no assurance but that he would be late in going.

"Counting of time," said the mayor philosophically, "is not half so important as making time count."

Mayor Walker said his remarks had been inspired by "a small group who participated in the Republican national convention at Kansas City."

"It seems to me," he said, "that they would realize how silly it is for the motion picture industry to dabble in politics. These motion picture producers must remember that Sunday-closing laws in many cities are in the hands of opposition politicians, and the pursuit of a partisan policy would be ruinous to the industry."

GOVERNMENT PLANS DEMOCRATIC CHIEFS GRAND JURY INQUIRY | MEET IN NEW YORK IN PATRONAGE CASE

Biloxi to Ask for Mississippi Action.

GEORGIA POSTMASTER TELLS OF G. O. P. GIFTS

Says He Thought Contributions Necessary in Order to Hold Job.

Atlanta, Ga., July 10 (A.P.).-The Georgia hearing two-thirds completed, plan of campaign designed to carry the nment planned to ask immediate ing battle. District Committee Head to grand jury investigation of similar charges in Mississippi.

The announcement, coming during a slashing session of the initial inquiry here today, said that Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Assistant United States Attorney General, was en route to Biloxi, Miss., to request grand jury action.

Mass of Evidence In.

A mass of testimony affirming and denying that the Republican organization in Georgia had dispensed post-office patronage for financial consid-erations crowded the docket with sensations at the second day's hearing clared tonight in a formal statement. Mr. Upshaw yesterday issued a formal statement in which he declared that he would not support Gov. Smith, but would work for his defeat. He recently was qualified as a candidate to oppose the incumbent, Leslie J. Steele.

Mr. Howard's statement said no date for the committee meeting had been set, "but I shall call it at the earliest possible moment," and that he would "insist that the committee adhere to its rules and declare Mr. Upshaw in eligible to make the race as a Democrat under the rules of the State Democrat under the rules of the State Democratic committee."

I feel that Mr. Upshaw is not entitled to a place on the Democratic ticket under his own statement," Mr. Howard declared, "and that he is at the permocracy of Georgia. He has lived in the district about 15 days since his defeat nearly two years ago by Mr. Steele, and yet he comes back to Georgia to tell us to elect him to Congress and defeat the Democratic nominee for president."

DIED to the treasurer.

Davis Letter Introduced.

Ben J. Davis, negro, former nationa committeeman, who yesterday denied that he had ever accepted any contributions from applicants for postal postitions, was drawn into the picture today when Senator Walter F. George, day when Senator Walter F. George, Georgia, assisting the inquiry, placed in the record a letter to the central committee's treasurer signed by Davis. The letter reminded the treasurer of the 'Gunnels-Tennille affair" and requested that Martin ask Gunnels, who had been an applicant for the postoffice at Tennille, to come and get a contribution, which the letter stated Gunnels had left with Davis, who turned it over to the treasurer.

Asserting that Davis had had two communications from Gunnels, one asking return of the money and another withdrawing the request, the letter

William Schley Howard, attorney for the Republican committee, sought in cross-examination of Spence and others to show that any system of contributing to party funds was created under a previous regime and had been continued as a custom wherever recent contributions had been made.

At the outset Howard, declaring that this clients felt that the suicide of L. F. Peterson, Douglas, Ga., postmaster, coupled with charges from an Americus man of payments to the party, solely had precipitated the investigation, asked the committee to go into the Peterson case. He said he wanted the committee to hear from J. P. Johnson, a chief of postal inspectors here.

Johnson Takes Stand.

Johnson Takes Stand.

Johnson Takes Stand.

"It has been publicly said throughout the State." continued Howard, "that the suicide of Peterson was due to 'unheard-of demands on him by the Republican machine' when, in fact, he contributed only $100 or so to the party. The real supposed cause of the suicide was a shortage of some $7,000." Senator George said be had no objection to hearing the winess and Johnson took the stand. The chief of inspectors, however, said the record was in the hands of the Postoffice Department, and he preferred it should come from it.

Senator Brookhart interposed that the Postmaste" General had assured him that the department's investigation of the Peterson case would be placed at the disposal of the committee and suggested that introduction of the evidence be not interrupted at this time.

Reed and Smith Talk.

Although the Democratic standard bearer has had little to say regarding the working out of campaign plans or the selection of a committee chairman, he undoubtedly will be the pivot around which all else will revolve.

It is regarded as a foregone conclusion that the new chairman, whoever it may be, will be in sympathy with Smith's position and prepared to go the limit in carrying out such suggestions as he may make for running the campaign.

Senator Reed came to New York at the invitation of the Democratic nomince. He had expected to confer with the governor tonight, but some time after the senator's arrival it was announced that the conference would take place tomorrow morning. Senator Reed said he did not know just what after the senator's arrival it was announced that the conference would take place tomorrow morning. Senator Reed said he did not know just what they would discuss.

"I shall do everything in my power in this campaign." the senator said.

Senator Reed went at once from the Grand Central Station to his room at the Hotel Biltmore. There he was joined by Norman L. Mack, Democratic national committeeman from New York, and other members of Gov. Smith's campaign organization. They talked over conditions generally until Gov. Smith arrived at his suite in the hotel.

In talking with reporters Senator Robinson said that he could not speak with any certainty about his campaign activities until after tomorrow's meeting, but he said there was no doubt that he would make a number of speeches in the West and Middle West.

As to the probable nature of those speeches, what their topics would be and whether hey would carry along the charges of "pillage and privilege" laid at the door of the Republicans in the Democratic keynote speech, he declined to say.

"An organized effort is in progress in several Southern States to defeat Governor, Visiting Camp, the national Democratic ticket, and, while the force and volume of this while the force and volume of this movement is not yet known, I am of the opinion that sound policies should prompt our party managers to meet this opposition decisively and promptly. POINCARE INSPIRED PARIS DIVORCE-MILI INQUIRY OF BARTHOU

Wrote to Court President, Complaining of Speedy Decrees for Americans.

FRENCH ATTORNEYS ASK U. S. FIRM INVESTIGATION

Request That American Lawyers Guilty of Unprofessional Acts Be Cited.

Paris, July 10 (A.P.) .- Premier Poincare personally inspired the action of the Minister of Justice, Louis Barthou. in starting an investigation into the "Quick American Divorce Organization." Another development today was that prominent French lawyers, forming an unofficial committee, are drafting a letter to the bar association requesting that the activities of American law firms in Paris employing French attorneys be looked into. neys be looked into.

Poincare some months ago wrote a personal letter to the president of the court of cassation, complaining of the glaring publicity given particularly speedy American divorcees. In his letter he expressed the desire that the practice of granting easy divorces to Americans be stopped. A few weeks later Barthou's investigation began.

Three well-known French lawyers—two of them counsel for large American financial interests in France—informed the correspondent of the Associated the correspondent of the Associated Press that they did not think it fair that French attorneys should be placed should be referred to their own bar association."

Intil the letter reached the bar association these attorneys were unwilling to permit their names to be published. However, one is counsel for one of the largest New York banks; another at one time was associated with the French Embassy at Washington, and the third is one of the most prominent criminal lawyers in Paris.

Reports were current today that the American Embassy had interested itself in the divorce situation and had begun an investigation of its own. But this was officially denied at the embassy. It was said that a report would be made to the Department of State, if requested, but this was regarded to imprison him. Strict Compliance Emphasized.

In the opinion of competent authoriies, the legality of American divorces granted in Paris through the process now under investigation can not be attacked, excepting upon the initiative of one of the parties to the suit, either husband or wife, dissatisfied with the decree.

It is insisted that henceforth Americans seeking divorce in France must be prepared to conform strictly with the French law, which requires a bona fide six months residence and also unimpeachable proof of the qause on which the divorce demand is based.

dismasted and storm-tossed yacht.

They were the crew of the $300,000 yacht Rofa, which was lost at sea 800 miles east of New York while taking part in the transatiantic race for the Queen Victoria Cup. The woman is Mrs. William Roos, wife of the yacht's captain, who worked side by side with the men in clearing the tangled wreckage from the rolling craft and trying to make it seaworthy after the storm.

They landed from the oil steamer Tuscaror, which brought them to port after their yacht sank!

The first squall struck the yacht at 10:15 o'clock on the morning of Friday, July 6, and both masts snapped off 20 feet from the deck. Mrs. Roos was on deck and she immediately turned to with the men to cut away the swinging spars and canvas. MANDATE OF CONGRESS CITED BY BROADCASTERS

Resolutions Declare That Chain Transmitters Are Given Privileges.

(Associated Press.)
The Federal Radio Commission was lvided into two groups yesterday to expedite the hearing of protests from radio stations ordered to cease broadcasting on August 1, and more than a score of stations presented arguments to refute the decision that they are not being operated to the public bene-

The contention that their programs reached listeners who would otherwise be denied radio entertainment and that their service was distinct from that rendered by other stations was the backbone of the case for nearly all which have been ruled off the ether as unnecessary or harmful to others.

Consolidations Are Proposed. Some of the protesting operators expressed a desire to consolidate, but most of them continued to resist any effort to incorporate them with nearby transmitters. itors of the Coral Gables Corporation for the appointment of a receiver.

Today's decision quashes the attempt to institute bankruptcy proceedings and leaves the development in the hands of the present directors, who have received the indorsement of a majority of the corporation's creditors.

Judge Jones, after hearing counsel for a number of small creditors of the corporation and counter arguments of counsel for Coral Gables, declared he could find nothing to lead him to believe that the property is being dissipated. The complainants had alleged money of the concern was being spent on administrative expenses when it should have been used for other purposes.

Believing this to be a sound price, we created Listerine Tooth Paste at 25c for a large tube. It is the result of more than fifty years' study of tooth and mouth troubles.

Now it is sweeping the country. Everywhere it is supplanting older and costlier dentifrices that accomplish no more.

Due to the presence of an amazing new and gentle polishing agent, it keeps teeth gleaming white with almost no brushing. Included in it are certain ingredients we have found most ideal in keeping the mouth and gums fresh and healthy.

Try Listerine Tooth Paste for a month: See how it makes teeth gleam. Note how good your mouth feels after using it. Compare it with any paste you have ever used and judge it by results alone. And then reflect that these results are costing you about half of what you would ordinarily pay. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

CAMPAIGN MACHINERY.

The fact that there have been a few squeaks and some clashing of gears in the Republican political machine during its organization period has caused some pessimistic individuals to forecast a lack of harmony in the forces supporting Secretary Hoover. Some confusion has existed no doubt. The difficulty has been in interpreting the statements of Dr. Hubert Work and reconciling them with some of the remarks that have been made by his associates. It is, however, likely that the application of a little oil, represented in this instance by time, will work out any friction that may exist. The idea of the Republicans going through a national campaign at cross purposes can hardly be supported by precedent.

It is only natural that there should be some confusion in the initial stages of organization, following the conventions. The supporters of Gov. Smith have not been free from similar dissension. Immediately following the return of the Democratic forces from Houston, it was announced that there was a decided difference of opinion among the Tammany leaders and the Proskauer-Moskowitz faction as to the form and policies to be adopted in the Democratic campaign. No split among the supporters of Gov. Smith need be expected because of these divergent views. The Democrats will reconcile their differences after a few family conferences

It is not hard to trace the causes which contribute to these seeming rough spots. The beginning of a presidential campaign is only the first step in a struggle for preferment. Prior to the nomination the supporters of the successful candidates are united in their efforts to swing the necessary number of delegates At that stage of the battle the candidate has little to give, and is usually willing to accept all of the assistance he can get. When nomination has become an accomplished fact the situation is reversed. The candidate becomes the giver and the difficulty arises of harmonizing the ambitions of those leaders who consider that their allegiance entitles them to posts of the greatest importance. The fact that some men view the places that they obtain now in the light of what they may expect in the event their man reaches the Presidency does-not make matters any the easier.

The period marks for both candidates only a foretaste of what they may expect in the event of their election. The Presidency can not be won without an acceptance of the responsibility that goes with it. The pressure for place and power which is exerted against the nominees increases many times as soon as a man enters the White House. The very possibility of success, which both sides harbor, makes any flare-ups at the present time of minor importance. The gifts at the disposa of Secretary Hoover and Gov. Smith now are as nothing compared to what one of them will have to distribute next March, and it is to that day that their followers are looking. They will not prejudice that prospect by pouting over minor dissatisfactions during the campaign.

GERMAN RUBBER DESIGNS.

Although the German financial and industrial groups are not prone to lay their cards upon the table and their methods for the concentration of capital are less open to the general view than is the case here, the American trade commissioner at Hamburg has, nevertheless, made a report upon the movements in rubber that shows the breadth of German undertaking in this field. The union of two leading financial institutions, the Darmstaedter and National and the Deutsche Banks, in a plan to concentrate upon rubber will be viewed with interest by automobile manufacturers other than those of Germany. Economy and improvement in methods are aimed at. This is the usual line of attack of the German masters in enterprise; to create more favorable opportunities through invention and to eliminate extravagance, to pare down to the bone the costs of manufacture and marketing. e low price of rubber in Germany just now and the disposition of those who are holders of rubber stocked at higher prices to take advantage of any methods that promise better returns than those of a falling market provide the opportunity which has been worked up to for the last two years to make rubber a great centralized industry organized to cope with the markets of the world. The consolidation of the industry which lies at the base of the automobile production and to control as well the production of all rubber goods is indication that even though Germany has been shorn of colonies and is not situated to make itself felt at the point of raw materials It is keen to see the field of advantage further as that of articles made of rubber may offer all the needed margin for profitable undertaking by those who have the genius and the understanding to concentrate upon an industry to its full possibilities.

American interests which are concerned with obtaining fresh sources of rubber, either from plants domestic to the American continent, the Philippines or by the develonment of synthetic methods, are given notice by improvement in the manufacture of tires has ot been fully thrashed out. A saving of a few dollars per unit in an enterprise as massive great. President Wilson answered and denied animals.

AIRPORT DELAY.

The Raltimore municipal airport project is being pushed rapidly forward. At the present moment only routine approval by United States Army officials is needed before the Baltimore Board of Estimates will be asked to grant authorization for the purchase. The board, it is said, will authorize purchase of the land in short order and it is expected that construction forces will be put to work before the summer is over. In the meantime Washington is no further advanced in its municipal airport project than it was a year ago. There will be an airport some day, no doubt, but whether it can be constructed in time to meet the competition of previously established airports in the vicinity is another matter.

It is unfortunate that major District projects are dependent largely upon the sessions of Congress. When Congress is not in session nothing can be done that has not previously been authorized. Valuable time is being wasted in which plans for the local airport could be formulated. Until December, however, Washington must mark time while Baltimore digs in. The District is fortunate, however, that it possesses Bolling Field. For the time being permission to alight on this field has been granted the air mail planes, and commercial planes too large to use the smaller local fields are granted its facilities. This is only a temporary arrangement, however. Bolling Field was laid out to serve the Army aviation service and commercial utilization of it is only by

A bill to establish a municipal airport will be introduced to Congress next December. It demands attention. Washington, the National Capital, must not lose the place to which it is entitled upon the commercial airway map of the United States. Local air traffic, freight, mail and passenger, should not have to be dispatched "via train or bus to Baltimore."

PADDOCK'S PLIGHT.

Amateur athletic officials found themselves in a difficulty of their own making in the case of Charlie Paddock. The arbitrary and unexplained disbarment of Charles Hoff, Norwegian pole vaulter, by the United States authorities left them in a delicate position when Norway suggested that the "fastest human" may have capitalized his skill for profit while playing in motion pictures and making personal appearances in connection with the completed film. Paddock was given a clean bill of health last month by Pacific Coast authorities, and the eligibility committee of the A. A. U. has now ruled that he may be a member of the American team.

The absence of Padlock from the American Olympic Team would have worked no great hardship on the chances of this country. The final tryouts at Boston brought together a remarkable field of dash men. Paddock, himself, was unable to qualify for the team in the 100vard dash and was not the best man in the 220. Another full team could, in fact, be chosen in these two events without lessening the speed of the American representatives by more than tenths of a second. It is, however, unfortunate that any question should have arisen as to eligilibity of any of the competitors.

The position of the United States in the Olympic games has since their inception been so commanding that it would be better to err on the side of severity than of laxity in interpretation of the rules. As matters stand now this country has a wealth of material. When the games were first renewed at Athens the team which represented this Nation was drawn largely from one or two Eastern colleges and a few of the big athletic clubs in the same section. Today every part of the country will have representatives on the team. The Pacific Coast has for several years been most active in producing phenomenal track and field athletes. The Middle West has had numerous challengers for more than a decade, and this year the South and Southwest, which in the past have sent few men to the games, are represented by seven of the squad to make

The broader interest and participation is, of course, a healthy sign. Membership on the Olympic Team is the final hall-mark of a great athlete. There should be neither question nor suspicion as to the eligibility of any of the Decision on disputed standing should be openly arrived at by those in control. The Amateur Athletic Union has in the past been both arbitrary and secretive. If it had let the public know the full details in both the Hoff and Paddock cases the present embarrassment might have been avoided.

GEORGE E. CHAMBERLAIN.

Former Senator George E. Chamberlain, of Oregon, had that rare brand of courage which enabled him to retain, after the United States entered the war, a clarity of vision which did not prevent him from seeing the mistakes which this country was making. More, he dared to speak out and because of that fact earned the undying enmity of President Wilson, his party leader. His outspoken frankness led to his defeat for reelection, but it stands as a monument to his name that history will not forget.

Senator Chamberlain as much as any one man in the Senate saw the necessity of preparing the United States for war after Europe took up arms. In sharp contrast to the pacifist sentiments which ruled the House military affairs committee, Senator Chamberlain, at the head of the similar body in the Senate, worked incessantly to bring about a state of preparation for war in the United States. He gladly accepted and advanced the conscription theory for the establishment of an American army. He labored unceasingly to speed the dispatch of men and munitions to France after war had been declared between this country

His split with President Wilson grew out of Senator Chamberlain's belief that the best use was not being made by the military arm of the Government of the facilities which Congress had placed at its disposal. In a speech in 1918 he charged that the military establishment had "fallen down" and "stopped functioning." He spoke as the representative of thousands of Americans who believed that the need for increased efficiency in our preparations was Senator Chamberlain's charges. The latter in turn-defended himself in a four-hour speech citing concrete instances on which he based his belief. That speech did not mend the friendship which had existed between Senator Chamberlain and President Wilson, but it led to numerous military reforms. In a life marked by lengthy and devoted public service, Senator Chamberlain's courage in this one instances stamped him as a great man.

STARK TRAGEDY.

It is a dreary, discouraging story that Lieut. Einar-Paal Lundborg sends out of the Arctic. The five survivors of the ill-fated Italian expedition/are ill with fever and most of them show signs of partial insanity. The ice is breaking fast. It is no longer possible to send big planes to their relief. Operation of tiny sport planes even is fraught with danger. If the companions of Nobile are to be rescued, he says, it will have to be accomplished by the Russian ice-breaker Krassin. This vessel has found progress through the ice field slow and still stands 25 nautical miles away from the marooned men.

It seems absolutely certain by now that the balance of the Italia party has perished. Those who were left aboard the gas bag as it soared across the horizon after the control car had been torn off in the crash, probably met their death when the bag descended. Had they been able to land safely it is probable that by now they would have perished. Dr. Finn Malmgren, who with two companions started across the ice in an attempt to reach civilization, has not been spotted by any of the several parties that have been searching for him. This brave little band also undoubtedly has perished, and Amundsen with the crew of the hydro airplane in which he started to Nobile's aid, has not been seen nor heard from in nearly three

What promised to be one of the most im portant and fruitful exploratory ventures even organized by man has developed into stark tragedy. Brave men, accomplished and learned, have been lost. Rescuers have had to stand by impotently fretting at the knowledge that the elements would not permit their approach to those who needed material and moral assistance. The world continues to hope against hope that the ice-breaker Krassin will be able to reach the pitiful survivors who may, or may not, still live, so that they will not be swallowed up in the Arctic as have the others of the crew of the Italia.

CROP INSURANCE.

Damage from drought, excessive moisture, extremes in heat or cold, floods and insect enemies are the most outstanding elements of uncertainty which surround the agriculturist in his efforts to make a living from the soil. In addition to these hazards which may not be provided against physically is the hazard from uncertain marketing. While danger from crop damage is largely an individual risk, the uncertainty of the market is something which has to be faced by all. The ability to put the entire product upon the market or assurance that it will be profitably absorbed depends wholly upon a network of related conditions in the general field of pro duction and of consumption.

Crop insurance, as proposed by experts, finds response upon the part of the insurance companies. The element of natural risk may be computed; fluctuations in marketing may provided for by insurance to cover two thirds or three-fourths of the yield. Climatic and other hazards thus might conceivably be provided against so as to relieve the farmer of much of the uncertainty which surrounds his calling. As yet there is only one form of effective farm insurance, that against hail, which is very generally carried.

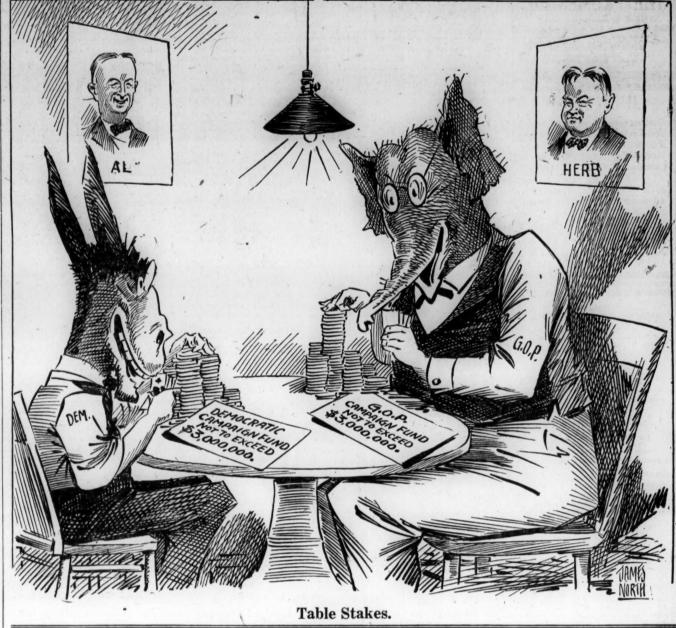

In other industries protection against every imaginable danger of physical loss and business risk is covered by insurance, but the farmer, whose hazards are beyond his control. has not yet become instructed as to the field of protection that may be built up for him also, so that, despite favorable prices annually made, agriculturists suffer financial loss. If the demand is aroused for insurance to cover crops, methods for meeting the demand will who have gone into the mafter thoroughly the insuring of crops presents no greater difficulties for the insurance companies than other forms of industrial insurance for which the tables have been prepared and which is regularly written.

PINE FOR PROFIT.

An industry that can mature at the maximum in the course of from 15 to 25 years, with success virtually assured and the market waiting, is presented by the commercial growing of pines in the South. Providing masts for the king's ships closed with the colonial era and the drafting upon forests for straight poles for sailing vessels measurably passed away with the passing of the sailing fleets that once put out from the Eastern seaboard by the thousand. Notwithstanding. the cutting of timber has gone on until the problem of replacement is as much to the fore in the Southern timber regions as elsewhere in the United States. The mere fact of reforestation as a kind of sentimental and frugal undertaking is apart from the specific growth of pines for the market which is known and waiting. The variety of uses to which the Southern pine is put show the markets which may be tapped by those who have entered seriously upon growing pines for profit. Southern pine produces turpentine in fifteen years and is large enough then for cordwood, pulpwood and poles. Experiments have been under taken to fix the resin in pine and turn scrub pine into hardwood capable of taking a polish like that of rosewood or other fine woods. The end sought is to make pine decay-resisting and thus to solve the problem of replacement of railroad ties and telegraph poles, except at long intervals. Even without any further outlook for the ise of pine than is at present offered the enterprise affords to the people of the vellow pine regions a new outlet. The millwork manufacturers are interested and the Government has provided in a publication issued by the Forestry Service information to guide those who see in this form of enterprise a method of turning natural values into practical and substantial profit while at the same time aiding in preserving rain precipitation and the support of wild life, fish, game and fur-bearing picture of Washington.

GEORGETOWN FOR SALE A CHARMING HOME

This delightful colonial clapboard house is situated on a very refined, well-established street. At the present time many of the surrounding houses are being restored to their true colonial flavour, and in a short while this street will look like an old-time picture of Washington.

The house itself contains a living room, dining room and kitchen on the first floor, and on the second floor there are three master sleeping rooms and bath. There are many attractive features, including two colonial period mantel shelves, random width flooring, and it is interesting to note this house has been modernized by electricity and hot-water heat. Substantially in sound condition, it needs only superficial decorating. We invite your inspection.

EAR Miss McDonald: I am a constant reader of your column and enjoy it very much. I suppose I should be happy with the world and everybody in it, but I am not. I become so lonely and blue sometimes I could scream. I envy large families and only wish mine was one. I am 19, have a good job as stenographer, nice clothes and nice friends, but still I am unhappy. I live with my father, aunt and grandmother, and they are all just lovely to me, but I know I do get blue. I have a nice friend, who comes around three or four times a week and treats me wonderfully, but I have been staying out late with him and so my father became an gry and told me I would have to stop it as long as I was around him. He told me I would have to be in by 10:30.

Now, Miss McDonald, I know I don't have to do what he says, but in order to keep peace in the family, I suppose it is the only thing to do. But if you go to a show it is late when you get home. My friend comes at 7:30. I couldn't possibly ask him to come earlier. I have had other boy friends, but they all expect you to stay out late with them. How can I be so different and expect to have friends? Just write me a line and give me your

In Hamburg they had 2,500 cases

Germany, in 1926. The reason it is given here is because a large proportion of the cases were called "intestinal flu" and another large group was called "intestinal catarrh."

The newspapers have recently carried accounts of an epidemic in a large Western city which local boosters are calling "intestinal flu. We know little enough about influenza or flu when it is on its own dunghill. When it is a matter of intestinal flu, we know nothing. But while the health officials and doctors are fussing and fighting over intestinal flu there is a safe rule for the ordinary layman to follow. If he hears that intestinal flu is raging in a given town he should boil the water.

THE series of playing questions we are running on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week apply equally well to Auction Bridge or Contract Bridge. In today's hand South is the Declarer; Spades trimp; and the score is love-all (nothing-nothing). The cards of Dummy and Closed Hand are given, the King of Clubs is led, and the question asked is how Declarer should plan to play the hand, Make up your mind after looking at Declarer's twenty-six cards, how you would answer that question before you read the explanation that follows:

Mr. Work's Pointer

On Auction Bridge

PLAN OF DECLARER.

Declarer should trump with the Four of Spades, not with an honor. This is not a case in which a Dummy entry is vital, and there is a possibility that the four adverse trumps are all in one hand. If so, trumping with an honor would cost a trick. Making up the entry in Dummy is not necessary because Declarer has eleven tricks assured and must lose one anyway. His hope is for a Small Slam which, with normal distribution of the adverse trumps, he can get just as well without an entry in Dummy as with it if the King of Hearts is on his right. He can not accomplish his purpose if the four adverse trumps are all in one adverse hand, but with that improbable distribution the high ruff would be fatal.

He will lead trumps until he exhausts the adverse trumps; then lead his five Diamonds, all of which he has its with in the Closed Hand; and then lead his small Heart. If the Heart trick be taken by East. If the Heart trick be taken by East. If the Heart trick be taken by East. Beclarer gets the opportunity for the Heart finesse.

April suffered the arm and the squeeze. They might be intended for cammaderie, she thought. At least, she would give him the benefit of the doubt as long as possible.

But she was a little uneasy when she had served for him, for he lingered to talk to her after she had been shown to the comment to his, As soon as she could get rid of him, for he lingered to talk to her after she had been shown to the room, she ran to the connecting door, making sure it was bolted. Light caresses—how little meaning they had when one was whirling are not accomplish his purpose if the four adverse trumps are all in one adverse hand, but with that improbable distribution the high ruff would be fatal.

He will lead trumps until he exhausts the adverse trumps; then lead his five Diamonds, all of which he has the will have to be continued (if East led a Club, the Declarer could discard in one hand and trump in the other); and in that case Declarer gets REPLIES TO READERS.

DEAR VIOLA PARIS: My skin is very dry and inclined to be scaly. I notice that my face is beginning to show wrinkles around the syes and beneath my chin. I am 31. What do you advise?

Sort of funny feeling must go over both of the principal characters of this little drama of academic life.

One cannot imagine, however, that the flying colonel showed any more emotion in receiving the honorary degree of LL.D than he did in 1922 when he was ordered, "To withdraw for low grades."

While only one person, the night watchman, saw him depart, 5,000 spectators crowded into a small auditorium to see him return and to glimpse the fellow who had made good. Some difference between being entertained for a few seconds in the dean's office when your resignation is requested and being

How would you feel to walk out of a State university in the night with no one as much as saying, "Good luck, old chap." to return to their age.

Answer: Always a delicate matter.
A man's past belongs to his parents, his future to his family, but his corneating habits are his very own. Most mothers respond to social suggestions from their children. Fathers are often a bit stubborn and yet, fundamentally, they are perfectly willing to adopt modern ideas when the suggestion is properly presented. Make the appeal through love.

one. No, don't. I'll tell you, with the cards."

She had April sit at a little table, and she threw out the cards with nimble fingers. Then after studying them she gave April her pedigree to a "T."

"You come from the country, from the hills, I should say. You are on the stage partly because you want to be, but partly for another reason, too. You like it and yet there is a situation that is very unpleasant for you. A man, tall and thin with shiny black hair—your dancing partner, no doubt—is making you very uncomfortable. Is it not so?"

April nodded, fascinated.

"Well, don't worry about him," Madame Margola went on comfortably, "But there will be another black-haired man in your life—beware of him.

Aril turned the key and opened the door a tiny space. He put his face close to hers as he could and whispered (at the same time grasping the knob on his side of the door). "Let me in just a minute, honey. It wouldn't do for me to be seen out here," and before she could move, he had slipped in, closing the door behind him. He advanced toward her with outstretched arms. April faced him, furious. "Get out of here, Dick Ballinger. This sort of thing doesn't go with me, and you know it?"

Dick, baffied and infurlated by the omnipresence of this remarkable woman, turned and went to his room without saying anything for hiraself.

"How did you do it?" April inquired of Madame Margola.

"My little secret, my dear," the lady replied, vastly pleased with herself. April never could decide whether the feats of the fortune teller were merely the quick workings of her shrewd mind, or whether she did possess some mysterious power. But there was no denying that she had proved uncan.y ability time and again to April. And now she had appeared in the nick of time.

Dick sulked a while over his latest defeat, leaving both women severely alone for a time. Then one day he marched in, and in Margola's presence, said to April:

Beautifying with Soap and Water

How a true complexion soap of Nature's beauty oils brings natural charm to your skin

WASHING the face at least VV once daily in this way is concededly the most important beauty rule of the day.

But only a soap of Nature's beauty oils — those of olive and palm—will cleanse the skin thoroughly and gently at the same time. Such a soap as Palmolive. Scrubbing the face is too harsh for delicate skin fabric. Use Nature's way — your two hands, and gently massage the creamy Palmolive lather thoroughly into your skin.

Thus pores release their daily accumulation of grime and cos-metics. Thus skin is kept smooth and velvety — girlhood's charm retained.

Then rinse the face—first with warn, then with colder water. And dry by gently patting the skin with a soft towel. Last of all, a dab of cold cream to guard against dryness. That's Nature's rule. It's simple, but a week will prove its value to your skin.

Be sure you get Palmolive that's important. Everywhere 10c a cake. The Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, Ill,

DECLINES OUTNUMBER GAINS AMONG STOCKS

General Motors' Strength Features Trading; Steel, Common Off 21/4 Points.

RADIO IS A HEAVY LOSER

New York, July 10.—General Motors

New York, July 10.—General Motors was the outstanding feature in today's moderately active stock market, with declines more numerous than advances. There was, throughout the session, a discriminating buying movement among stocks in strong earning position, demand converting on the premier automobile stock which was boosted to 199½ and closed at 198½, for a net gain of 4½ points. The turnover of 442,300 shares of this stock constituted nearly a quarter of the day's business of 1,850,000 shares. General Motors' showing of around $8.50 a commor share for the first six months, in conjunction with well-sustained sales since the end of the half year, has made the outlook for a further special distribution to stockhold-ser exceptionally promising. Motors' strength furnished the main body of stocks with powerful support against professional drives based on stiff money conditions. Banks called more than $15,000,000 loans and the supply funds at the demand rate of 6 per cent was limited. An advance to 6½ was threatened most of the day, but sufficient funds came into the market in the afternoon to keep the rate unchanged. Call loans on acceptances were higher, at 6 per cent, compared with 5 per cent yesterday.

An important development of the day that mijht be construed bullishly was the sudden drop in the price of sterling exchange. Weakness in the pound, which threatens reimportation of gold into this country, probably tends to make the Federal Reserve authorities averse to making money any tighter. It is even possible that it may make them relax their attitude. The Federal Reserve Board's condition statement was construed as a bearish development. The statement showed the biggest increase in loans and discounts that has appeared for a long time, a sizeable swelling in the total of loans on stocks and bonds and a the biggest increase in loans and dis-counts that has appeared for a long time, a sizeable swelling in the total of loans on stocks and bonds and a big decrease in security holdings. The mail order shares, boosted into new high price territory yesterday, were among the pet seiling butts of today's session, Montgomery Ward losing 3½ points net and Sears Roebuck 3.

Practically all the rails lost ground on the day, net declines ranging from fractions to 4 points, but trading in them was not heavy. Texas & Pacific suffered the maximum loss. Exceptions were Soo Line, common and preferred which gained 3½ and 4 points, respectively. McCrory Stores B was a strong feature, advancing 8 points let. Other stocks to gain substantially on the day included Allied Chemical, Allis Chalmers, Du Pont, Commercial Solvents, Chickasha, Collins & Alkman, Briggs Manufactur-Collins & Alkman, Briggs Manufactur-ing, Yellow Truck B, Motor Products, Paramount, Weber & Heilbronner Unit-

Paramount, Weber & Heilbronner United State Leather common and preferred and a few others. Net gains in this group extended to 11½ points, the maximum being scored by Du Pont.

Among the heaviest net losers were Radio, Rossia Insurance, Houston Oll, Midland Steel Products preferred, Mullins Manufacturing, Peoples Gas, Warren Bros., Victor Talking Machine. "National Tea and White Sewing Machine."

Values generally were forced down in the foreign exchange market. Sterling broke 7-6ths of a cent to $4.869-16 for cables, the lowest level reached this year. Holland drafts, following this lead, dropped 1½ points and Scandina-vian currencies were off ½ to 1½ points. Pesstas yielded 1½; reichmarks a point and Belgian, French and Italian rates 1/2 point. Quiet prevailed in the Far Eastern division, although the tendency continued easier. South Amerians again were steady. Canadian funds in New York were inactive, with the continuing at 1/4 per cent.

BROAD REACTION IS LED BY GOVERNMENT BONDS

Few Issues Close With Small Gains; Market Trading Is Light.

FOREIGN LIST IS HEAVY.

New York, July 10 (A.P.) .- Bond market prices followed U. S. Govern-ment obligations, several of which moved to new lows for the year, down the hill today. Trading was light and price changes narrow.

To the influence of weak Government bonds was added a general feeling of uncertainty over the money situation, especialy since mid July is traditionally the time for low money rates. However, call money ruled at 6 per cent all day, banks called $15,000,-000 or more in loans and market fears received some confirmation after the close through announcement that the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank had increased its rediscount rate to 5 per concago Federal Reserve Bank had increased its rediscount rate to 5 per cent from 4½.

Market observers professed to be puzzled by the decline in Government bonds especially since the new Treasury 33%s were quoted at a premium soon after they were offered and the third Liberty 4½s, for which they may be exchanged, also advanced. Moreover the Treasury's latest offering, which probably will be the last for some time, at least, was reported heavily oversubscribed. Generally, today's weakness was ascribed to readjustments necessitated by the new offer and widespread liquidation by holders of other issues who are switching to the newer issue.

Treasury 33%s fell-below par, while Fourth Liberty 4½s and the other Treasury issues declined to new lows for the year. Other Government obligations were under pressure, but trading was light.

were under pressure, but trad-gations were under pressure, but trad-ing was light. Fractional changes, chiefly declines, were general in the rest of the market, especially late in the day. In the in-dustrial group such issues as Belding Hall convertible 6s, Dodge Brothers 6s, Pierce Arrow 8s, Humble Oil 5s, International Paper 5s and National Dairy Products 5½s closed with losses as high as 1 point. In the face of these general declines, Liquid Carbonic convertible 6s advanced 4 points, evidently on buying encouraged by improved trade conditions, and Houston Bay & Terminal 5s, Anaconda Copper 6s, New York Dock 4s, Paramount Famous Lasky 6s and Remington Arms 6s made smaller gains. St. Paul 5s of 2000 displayed the greatest activity among the rails, but here again the price trend was downward. Cuba Railroad first 5s, Katy 5s, Oregon Short Line 4s, Frisco 4½s were among issues to close lower. Great Northern 7s, Pennsylvania 4½s, Wabash 4½s and a few others moved upward against the trend.

Utilities were under pressure, with public service on New Jersey 4½s closing nearly 2 points lower. United Electric Light & Power 5½s made a small gain, apparently on buying influenced by reports of pending mergers.

The foreign list reflected general market heaviness, Italian industrial and municipals losing their early strength. The first large public offering in some time will be made tomorrow in the form of $23,000,000 State of Rio Grande Do Sul, United States of Brazil, 6 per cent external sinking fund gold bonds. A21,700,000 Kimberly, Clark Corporation Hall convertible 6s, Dodge Brothers 6s, Pierce Arrow 8s, Humble Oil 5s, Inter-

Another public offering will consist of $2,700,000 Kimberly Clark Corporation first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds constituting senior financing for the corporation, which was formed to acquire assets and business of the old Kimberly-Clark Co., manufacturers of paper and specialties.

EXCHANGE TRADING LIGHT

Officers and personnel of the Federal Security and Mortgage Co. yesterday held open house in their new offices at 1522 K street northwest. From 10 o'clock yesterday morning, when the new quarters were formally opened, until 9 o'clock last night, a stream of visitors passed through the attractive and excellently accoutered building.

attractive and excellently accoutered building.

The exterior of the structure is of Imestone, a doorway flanking each side of a large ornamental plate glass window. The interior is decorated with paneled ceiling and bronze lighting fixtures. On the first floor is the main banking room. A reception bay has on one side a cashler's counter and three private offices. On the other, separated from the main alse, are the desks for salesmen.

Frivate conference rooms, accounting offices, direct mail and secretarial rooms, and storerooms for literature and office supplies are located in the rear of the first floor. On the mezzanine is the board of directors' room, furnished with overstuffed chairs and rich hangings. Its ceiling is lacquered in silver.

Chain Store Record.

Chain Store Record.

Sales reported by the 14 leading chain store systems in the United States for the six months ended June 30 broke all previous records for any similar period, according to a compilation completed yesterday by George H. Burr & Co., specialists in chain store securities. Total sales aggregated 3602,627,210, an increase of $41,631,635 or 12.1 per cent over sales reported 37 the same period last year.

While a portion of the gain reported was found due to the opening of new locations, the totals in general are believed to reflect prosperous conditions prevailing in most sections of the country. As the larger portion of the annual business of the chain store systems is carried on during the closing half of the year, it may be predicted that total sales for the full year will again surpass all previous records, based on the showing for the first six months. Each of the 14 systems reported gains in sales for both June and the six months.

age hard by the shore of the Shrews-oury River. "I figure I can wear him down with a body attack in ten founds and then chase him all around the ring for the last five.

"They tell me," added Heeney, "that Tunney has not boxed more than ten rounds at a time in four years. Those extra five rounds will take a lot more out of him than people imagine. Don't think I am boasting when I say I don't think he can hit hard enough to knock

"Sharkey, if you will recall, planted three corking rights on my chin in the first round of our fight and yet I did not know I had been hit until I came back to my corner and my seconds gave me hell for leaving my chin exposed. I don't imagine Tunney can hit any harder than Sharkey; if he could it wuold not have taken him fourteen rounds to dispose of fourteen rounds to dispose of Georges Carpentier."

Wightman Flays Olympic Heads For Approving Paddock, Resigns

BOSTON, July 10 (A.P.).—George W Wightman, of this city, today telegraphed to Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, head of the American Olympic committee, his resignation as vice president and hember of the 'committee, with the request that it take effect at once. In the telegram he severely criticized the committee for permitting Charles Paddock to accompany the Clympic team to Amsterdam.

"I can not conscientiously retain membership on any committee," Mr. Wightman wired Gen. MacArthur, "which on technical or other like grounds permits an athlete to repressing the United states when he is notoriously under suspicion as an amateur, and who, therefore, may be the cause of destroying the fundamental purpose fo. which the Olympic games are held."

He defined this purpose as "to promote friendly international relations through competitions between amateur athletes of the nations entered." He referred to the reported threat of the Southern California Association to withdraw its contingent if Paddock upon being advised today of the criticism of him that accompanied the resignation from the Olympic committee of George W. Wightman, issued the following statement:

"By tendering his resignation from the American Olympic committee at a time when the need of cooperation is grammount, Mr. Georg W. Wightman, of Boston, and the American athletes are now even. Auteuil, France, July 10 (A.P.).—
Headed by William T. Tilden, its captain, the United States Davis Cup Trennis Team had its first workout today on the courts of the Roland Garros Stadium where the Davis Cup Interzone final will be contested July 20, and the challenge round July 27.

"The courts are spleudid," Tilden commented, adding that the entire team is in the finest physical shape, but needs practice on hard courts after its fortnight of play on grass at Wimbledon.

Martin placed fourth in the final tryout in the 1,500-meter run at Cambridge, Mass., last week but was denied a place on the Olympic team when the selection committee nominated Lloyd Hahn, of the Boston A. Y scoring nine runs in each game of yesterday's double-header with Cleveland, while the Indians were tallying five times in the opener and being whitewashed in the nightcap, the Nationals passed the idling White Sox and pulled up into a tie for the fourth place in the pennant race.

The first encounter was a hectic one in which the result was in doubt until the Nats started going after the Tribe had quit in the seventh. Southpaws Lloyd Brown and Joe Shaute were the starting finingers, with neither finishing, although a triple by the Nats' rookie pitcher, which robbed him of much of his stamina, was largely responsible for his withdrawal in favor of Fred Marberry, who was credited with the victory.

no doubt will be hard to convince that the box score is correct. It shows that the Nationals scored nine times on thirteen hits, while the Indians made no use at all in a scoring way of four-teen, including a brace of doubles and a triple. This was due to two reasons—that Milton Gaston was effective in the pinches and that his mates were in a fine fielding mood.

In the second game the Tribe was credited with at least one hit in every frame, while two were inserted in the first, sixth and eighth and three were wasted in the ninth, due to a brilliant one-band running catch by Dick Spalding, in right field in Rice's place, which robbed Bruce Caldwell, former Yale football star, of at least a triple.

This catch ended the game with the runways loaded. Double plays helped Gaston out of two holes, and he managed to pitch himself out of the others.

Practically all of the Harrismen used the day to boost their batting averages. Sam Rice, who singled twice in the opener, cracked out his second homer of the season in the second inning of the nightcap scoring Rue! ahead of him, but stick honors go to Joe Judge, who had a total of four hits, including two doubles and a triple, and to Ossie Bluege and Bob Reeves, who also were credited with a quartet of safeties.

MIAMI TRACK MAY OPEN AGAIN

Business Men Want Meeting; Plan for Oral Betting.

Special to The Washington Post.

Special to The Washington Post.

Wey York, July 10.—Joseph M. Smoot, president of the Miami Jockey Club, issued a statement today that a 51-day meeting would be conducted at the Florida track this winter. According to Mr. Smoot, the Mayor of Miami and many of the leading business men of that city believe that the sport can be revived with a method of betting in vogue which will not violate the Florida laws. This, Mr. Smoot intimates, can be accomplished by the adoption of the oral system which is employed in New York. "After a canvass of all the leading horsemen and an investigation of the entire situation," said Mr. Smoot, "we are satisfied that Miami, the Saratoga of the South, can conduct a race meeting like that at the Saratoga of the North—strictly within the law. There will be no attempt made at any time to open the mutuels or to operate under anything like the mutuels system.

LINCOLN FIELDS ENTRIES.

FIRST RACE—One and one-sixteenting purse, $1,200; claiming; for 3-year lds and upward.

"Naturally, it can not be ex-pected that the coming meeting will prove very profitable to the association, but we can race without loss, with a possibility of a little profit. Of course, it will be necessary to advance the prices of admission to both the grandstand and the clubhouse, but even then the admission price will be con-siderably lower than at any New York track.

"Since I came to New York I have had conversations with Mayor Sewell and others over the lond distance telephone and have received wires and letters settling forth the necessity of a race meeting for the benefit of Miami. It is realized now that the absence of racing last winter cost Miami a lot. I have been assured that not only will there be nothing placed in the way of the sport by any one in that section, but on the other nand a united effort will be made to further racing and to take care of the horsemen and the thousands of visitors who will be drawn to Miami because of the race meeting. The plant at Hialeah is in perfect condition and it will cost little to open it."

Smith-Jacobs French Golfers Threaten Supremacy Of American Women in U.S. Tourney

Another one of those spicy sports matches between French and American women is in prospect for the national women's golf tournament at Hot Springs, Va., in September. Both Mile. Simone Thion de la Chaume (upper center) and Mile. Le Blanc (extreme left), leading French players, may enter the meet to match their skill against such American stars as Mrs. Miriam Burns Horn (lower center) and Mrs. O. S. Millard Lewis and Maurice Hoffman defeated Kip Callan and J. B. Brown by default when the latter team did not put in its appearance yesterday to continue the match which was started on account of darkness

Their victory sent them into the bracket with Bob Burwell and Fred Dodge, who defeated them in four sizzling sets of splendid tennis, 6—2, 6—3, 4—6, 6—2. Burwell and Dodge have proven they are excellent courtmen with good positional play and are expected to give Jacobs and Smith a battle today in the semifinals.

only interest attached to the second game was whether the Indians, who continually threatened to do something, would succeed. They both started and ended with the bases filled. Their first-inning threat caused some worry, for the Nationals had not started at that time. It saw Jamieson and Fonseca single, with a sacrifice and a walk separating the two blows. Summa, however, copped to Reeves for the third out. In the four'i, Fonseca led off with a triple only to remain on third while Summa and Hodapp fouled to Bluege and Myatt lined to West, a drive on which the National gardener made a fine catch.

In the sixth J. Sewell singled and Summa doubled with one out, but again the Nationals railled behind Gaston, while a base on balls and Lind's scratch safety were not used in the seventh by the Indians.

A double play, coming between singles by Caldwell and Hodapp, came in the eighth and then Spalding came through with his fancy fielding bit to give Gaston a shut-out in the ninth, after the Tribe had packed the aisles with two out on singles by Gerken, Langford and Montague.

Had Emil Levsen, Peck's second pitcher, started for the Indians instead of Walter Miller, the result might have been different, for Levsen held the Nats to three hits from the fourth inning on, Miller managed to retire the Nats in

STUDY OF MERGER BEGUN BY MALTBIE NEW YORK EXPERT

Confers With Chairman Childress of Utilities Board and Other Officials.

EXPECTS TO REPORT TO SENATE IN MONTH

Valuation of Properties Main Point of Problem He Has to Solve.

Dr. Milo B. Maltbie, New York utilities expert, began his study of the local traction merger plan yesterday He is expected to complete the study and submit his report to the Senate District committee by the latter part of next month.

Dr. Maltble arrived here Monday night, accompanied by one of his assistants, George E. Goldthwaite, an expert on valuation matters. Yesterday Maltbie had a lengthy conference with

Civil Service Soon To Fill Dry Posts

The Civil Service Commission yesterday announced that it expected to begin early next month certification for filling positions of agents and investigators under the Bureau of Prohibition throughout the country. It is possible that there may be a shortage of eligibles in certain sections and in this event other examinations will be held in those sections.

If new examinations are necessary, it was stated, such changes in the examinations, if any, as are made will be for the purpose of improving the selective value of the examinations and not to make the tests easier.

Runs Into Autos; Fined $10 as Drunk

Wilbur Scott, colored, appears to have a queer complex which is aroused from dormancy by intoxication. It was testi-fied in court yesterday that he had de-Incourt yesterday that he had deliberately run into two automobiles, while under the influence of liquor.
Policeman E. D. Gemeny told Judge
Robert E. Mattingly that he was called upon to look for a drunken man who had run into an auto at Sxth and O streets northwest and that he found
Wilbur just too late to prevent him. Wilbur just too late to prevent him from running into a second car at Sixth and Rhode Island avenue. Wilbur said he couldn't remember anything about the affair. He was fined $10.

Detective J. W. Wise Promoted by Hesse

Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, yesterday recommended to the Commissioners promotion of Detective J. W. Wise, of the Fourth Precinct, as headquarters detective to fill the vacancy left by the death of Detective Sergt. Patrick O'Brien.

Promotion of Prohibition Officer R. J. Barrett, of the Eighth Precinct, to be precinct detective, was also recommended, as well as relief of Patrolman J. W. Tolson, of the Ninth Precinct, from further duty on a motorcycle because of his health.

Committee Is Named For Industry Show

Announcement was made yesterday by the Washington Chamber of Commerce of the personnel of the executive committee to have full charge and power to act on the fifth annual industrial show to be held next spring at the Auditorium.

Ivan O. Weld, president of the chamber, is chairman and Rudolph Jose, vice president, is vice chairman Others include Charles W. Darr, second vice president; M. A. Leese, past president, and John A. Eckert.

wife Charges Cruelty in Suit.

Nonsupport and cruelty are charged against Mattias Dorsey in a petition for limited divorce filed yesterday in Equity Court by Mrs. Evelyn Dorsey, 1717 Seventeenth street northwest. They were married October 15, 1926, and have two children. Attorney John J. O'Brien appeared for the plaintiff.

Boy Truck Victim's Death Held Accident

Investigating the traffic accident which resulted in the death at Garfield Hospital, Monday of William Watkins, 10 years old, a coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death, exonerating Raymond E. Ross, colored, of 1304 Sixth street northwest, driver of the truck which struck the boy.

The accident occurred in front of 2510 Fourteenth street northwest. The boy is said to have run from behind a parked vehicle into the path of the truck. The child lived at the East Clifton Terrace Apartments.

Metal Polish Fatal To Child 3 Years Old

A can of metal polish from which he drank a part of the contents, caused the death yesterday of Francis Bowlding, colored, 3 years old, of 429 Seventeenth street southeast.

The child was taken to Gallinger Hospital when its cries attracted the attention of other occupants of the house. Death occurred shortly after arrival at the hospital, police reported.

THIRD CAVALRY'S ROSTER OF 1845-46 DISCOVERED

Among Names Is Col. Jerome Bonaparte's and Col. Guy Henry's Grandfather's.

RECALLS OLD ROMANCE

With the finding of the original roster of the Third Regiment, United States Cavalry, which was formed in 1845-46, the fact that Col. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte 3d, nephew of Na poleon Bonaparte, history's famed "Lit-the Capital Traction Co., was fixed by the courts.

Malible already has considerable background on the merger row here. Shortly after he was selected by the Senate District committee to make the study, the full transcript of the hearings on the merger was sent to him in New York.

The New York expert will use the office of the Senate District committee for his work on the merger. Later it is expected that he will hire other men to help him and Mr. Goldthwaite.

Senate Committee Plans.

The merger subcommittee of the Senate District committee probably will gather here well in advance of the opening of the next session of Congress so that it can consider Malible's report and decide on the course of action it shall pursue.

The Senate committee eccided to hold up action on the joint resolution authorizing the merger until experts had time to study the plan.

The House District committee, however, made a favorable report on the fore the House when it convenes in December, but it is not expected that in will be voted on until the Senate comet.

ARMY MAKES RECORD WITH ALASKA RADIO

Sets Up Point Barrow Station in 51 Hours; Gen. Gibbs Compares Times.

Compares Times.

Commenting on the recent establishment of a Signal Corps radio station at Point Barrow, Alaska, which was accomplished in the record time of 51 hours, Maj. Gen. George S. Gibbs, chief signal officer of the Army, yesterday compared the work of the corps today with that of 29 years ago.

"Twenty-nine years ago, Elihu Root, Secretary of War, directed the Signal Corps to connect St. Michael and Valdez in Alaska by electric telegraph. These points are 500 miles apart by air line. It took three years to build the 1,400 miles of line required to bring St. Michael into touch with the outside world," Gen. Gibbs said.

He pointed out that last month Sevretary of War Dwight F. Davis directed the Signal Corps to connect Point Barrow with the outside world.

"In just 51 hours after the order was given, a radio station was established at Point Barrow and radio communication established with Seward, 800 miles away," Gen. Gibbs said. The record-breaking accomplishment was made possible by radio and airplane.

REHEARING GRANTED IN POLICEMAN'S CASE

Driving Without Permit and Transporting Seized Liquor Held Similar.

If a policeman is guilty of driving without a permit when he takes an auto to the station house in the line of duty, why isn't he guilty of transporting liquor when he moves seized iquor to the station house?

This is the ticklish question which was propounded to Judge Robert E. Mattingly yesterday by E. Russell Kelly and Robert I. Miller, attorneys for

Mr. Shaw added in his letter this was not only a loss of time to make the turn but also congested traffic in cases where two or more cars were waiting in the intersection for the go signal.

In his reply Mr. Harland asked Mr. Shaw to confer with him and go over the situation. Mr. Shaw said yesterday he would see the traffic director within the next few days.

Memorial Road Plan

Mrs. Marie Moore Forrest yesterday, in a letter to Former Commissioner Cuno H. Rudolph, chairman of the commission for celebration of the locentennial of the birth of Washington, revived her plan to have the memorial boulevard between the capital and Mount Vernon divided into sections for the display of the flora of each State. It is proposed by Mrs. Forrest that a national spring festival and tree planting be held in 1932, lasting several days, as part of the bleentennial celebration; that the "oulevard be laid out in 53 sections representing States and territories and that trees and shrubs be sent by each State or territory to plant its section; that one of the features of the festival be a float parade in which the history of each State would be illustrated and that the Fine Arts Commission approve the design of the flosts and the scheme of

COOLIDGE SAVES SLAYER HOWARD FROM EXECUTION

Commutes Sentence to Life Imprisonment on Sargent's Recommendation.

HAD SHOT GIRL IN RAGE

President Coolidge yesterday commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence imposed upon Malcolm Howard, colored, for the murder of Jessie Nelson, also colored, on February 4, at 2351 Sherman avenue northwest. Howard was to be electrocuted on July 19. The President acted upon the recommendation of the Department of Justice which investigated Howard's pleafor clemency.

tice which investigated Howard's plea for clemency.

This is the first time a death sentence has been commuted since the electric chair was installed in the District Jail. Howard's case was the first murder case in which women sat on the jury in this jurisdiction.

It appears from the recommendation made to the President by Attorney General Sargent that the shooting of the colored woman was not actually premeditated, even though the jury found it to be. Howard's advances had been rejected by the woman and he fired the shot in a rage. He afterwards wandered about the streets for three days before visiting the morgue where her body lay. He knelt beside the body and prayed and returned to his home where Detective Dennis J. Murphy arrested him.

When this case reached the Court of Appeals Abner Siegal, former counsel for Howard, attempted to obtain a new trial on the ground that the law permitting but not requiring women to serve on juries was invalid, but the court found that this objection should have been raised before and not after the trial. Later Lucien Vandoren anhave been raised before and not after the trial. Later Lucien Vandoren appeared as counsel for Howard and rep-resented the accused at the Department

WIFE SWALLOWS POISON

Released from custody on one charge when another man confessed, Charles H. Strobel was rearrested yesterday in police court by Headquarters Detective Frank Alligood on a Pennsylvania warrant. To cap the climax of Strobel's troubles, his wife, Mrs. Ruth Strobel, swallowed poison the previous day.

Strobel and Elmer Rayford were arrested by Precinct Detective Raymond B Carroll and charged with house-breaking several days ago, in connection with the thet of eight tires from a store at 1320 Fourteenth street northwest.

The detective believed he had a "perfect" case. The men had priced four tires and asked for credit which had been refused and later the same tires were stolen.

Two youths, arrested July 8, however, confessed that they had been the ones who robbed the store, and Strobel and Rayford were released by Assistant District Attorney Raiph Given.

While Strobel was in the halls of the police court building, he was seen by Alligood, who had a warrant from Pennsylvania for his arrest on a larceny cherge, and arrested him.

The two youths, Lonnie Jordan and Carmine Oddone, probably will oe given a preliminary hearing in police court today. They confessed to police that they had entered several gasoline stations, police say. when another man confessed, Charles
